TOWN OF LONGBOAT KEY RECOGNIZED BY COMPUTERWORLD AS A 2013 COMPUTERWORLD HONORS LAUREATE

March 19, 2013— IDG's Computerworld Honors Program today announces The Town of Longboat Key as a 2013 Laureate. The annual award program honors visionary applications of information technology promoting positive social, economic and educational change.

"Technology continues to play a pivotal role in transforming how business and society functions. For the past 25 years the Computerworld Honors Program has had the privilege of celebrating innovative IT achievements," said John Amato, vice president & publisher, Computerworld. "Computerworld is honored to recognize the outstanding accomplishments of the 2013 class of Laureates and to share their work. These projects demonstrate how IT can advance organizations' ability to compete, innovate, communicate and prosper."

"The technology created by the IT team at Longboat Key is a true leap forward in safety for the citizens of Longboat Key, as well as our Fire and EMT emergency personnel. Add to this the improved efficiencies this technology can provide other municipalities; you have surely put Longboat Key on the map as a safety conscience, technically innovative community." stated Town of Longboat Key Commissioner Jack Duncan.

The Computerworld Honors Program awards will be presented at the Gala Evening and Awards Ceremony on June 3, 2013 at the Andrew W. Mellon Auditorium in Washington, D.C.
