

Town of Longboat Key & Florida Fish & Wildlife Commission
Public Presentations Regarding Coyotes
December 17, 2018

On December 17, 2018, the Town of Longboat Key and experts from Florida Fish & Wildlife Commission will host two public workshops to educate our residents about coyotes recently sighted, and living on Longboat Key. For the convenience of residents, there will be two opportunities, to participate in FWC's public presentation.

10:00 AM – 12:00 PM, All Angels Episcopal Church, 563 Bay Isles Road;
OR
2:00 PM – 4:00 PM, Christ Church, 6400 Gulf of Mexico Drive.

The presentations will focus on:

- what to do if you see a coyote,
- how to safeguard yourself, children and pets from coyotes,
- how to prevent problems with coyotes,
- how to limit attracting coyotes to your property,
- nuisance coyotes in residential neighborhoods,
- problems relocating coyotes from their habitats, and
- other frequently asked questions.

For interested individuals who may not be able to attend either of the December 17th presentations, an earlier presentation held on August 30, 2018 was recorded, and the video was posted on the Town's website -- www.longboatkey.org.

In the meantime, extensive information on Coyotes can be found by visiting the Florida Fish & Wildlife Commission website at -- <http://myfwc.com/conservation/you- conserve/wildlife/coyotes/>
